

Law Firm Crisis Management

Unfortunately, throughout the years, we have had to be involved in crisis management situations. Whether for a law firm, or a law firm's client, we are experienced on dealing with a crisis that may impact the firm's reputation. Or even worse, its bottom line.

What is your crisis? Lawsuit against the firm, criminal accusations against somebody at your firm, financial problems, or key departures from your firm? Managing the message, both internally and externally, is key when a crisis arises.

Your ESQusite team can help you create the right message that will matter to your most important stakeholders – employees, clients, vendors, friends and other business relationships. We will also assist with media relations during the crisis so that your side of the story can be told in a way that you want it to be. The goal is to minimize damage to your firm, do not go at it alone. Call us.
